

ChiChi & ME Conversation Guide

Before reading

Ask children:

What do you think it means for someone to be different?

Can two people be different and still enjoy the same things?

What are some ways people look, move, think, talk, hear, see, or play differently?

After reading

Ask:

How are ChiChi and Captain Chaos different from each other?

How are they the same?

Why do you think people sometimes stare when someone seems different?

What could someone do instead of staring?

What is one thing that makes you extra-ordinary?

Kind Conversations

Instead of thinking: “What’s wrong with them?”

Try thinking: “They’re a kid, just like me. What fun thing can we do together?”

Instead of staring:

Smile, say hello, invite them to join, or ask a grown-up a respectful question later.

When someone looks different, or does things differently, it’s kind not to whisper or stare. You can treat them like a friend. They likely want the same kindness, patience, and chance to join in as everyone else.

Drawing or writing activity

Draw yourself as a superhero using your own strengths.

What is your super power?

Who is on your adventure team?

Closing thought

Different is not something to fix or criticize. Different is something to understand, appreciate, and even embrace. Being different from each other makes you, you. Imagine if we were all the same!

Different strengths, one big adventure.
